The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

A Name Among The Giants

The name of a giant among financial organizations — the U.S. National Bank, the state's ninth largest — ceased to exist just before sundown last Thursday. Its death was ordered by agencies of the government.

The bank represented the amazing achievements in financial wizardry of Arnholt Smith. But as thrilling as was the saga of the bank's growth, just as crushing was the blow that came when the U.S. Comptroller of Currency, through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the FBI, declared the banking institution insolvent at 3:30 in the afternoon of October 18.

Whatever good news there was came with the announcement that no U.S. National depositor would lose his money, and that the bank would be open Friday at 10 a.m. as usual to handle transactions of U.S. National Bank's depositors. There was no panic. That news came an hour after the bank closed Thursday when Crocker National Bank of San Francisco, one of the state's prestigious banking firms, was named as successful bidder for U.S. National Bank's assets, its 63 branches with 1,800 employees and 335,000 depositors. FDIC agreed to pick up the tab for the difference between assets and liabilities. This will represent a handsome wad of dough in itself.

Who, then, will be the big losers? The biggest has to be Smith, his family and the four companies owned by Smith and his family. They are said to hold 53 percent of the outstanding stock in U.S. National Bank. Until bad loans are evaluated, the stock value will not be established. Only those of extreme optimism believe that the stock will have any value at all. Trading was halted in the stock Friday. It was around $18 a share Thursday.

After Smith's losses, and FDIC's, who else loses?

Some of the 1,800 employees will be sufferers. The thought was engendered by a Padre baseball club minor official at the San Diego Stadium several weeks ago. He had confided that he was rewarded at the close of the baseball season with 10 shares of U.S. National Bank stock. "That's a start," he said, "I'm going to put my savings in some more of that stock." That was in September. The Smith organization, which also controlled the Padres, must have known at the time the true value of the bank stock. If it is as valueless as it is being suggested, it was a cruel gesture in exchange for effort and loyalty.

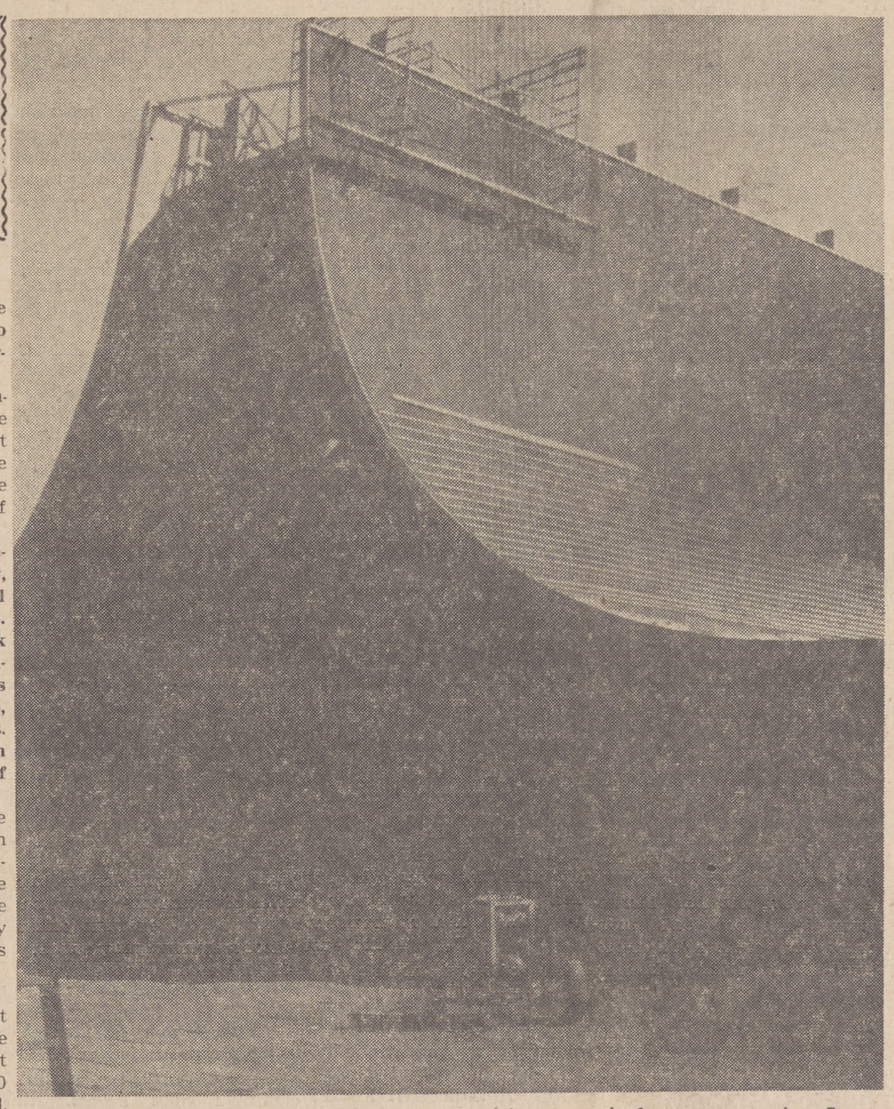
Some U.S. National Bank employees, particularly those who held minor titles around the bank's 63 branches, were frequently given bonuses in stock for certain performances. The stock represented income for effort, loyalty and faith in the organization. The stock, presumably as good as gold, was given in lieu of cash and to a loyal employee it provided a chance to own a part of the parent organization. It is not unusual for firms to give bonuses to their employees, often in cash. It is considered part of the employee's income and taxable as such.

If the stock proves to be worthless, would there be a basis for a class action suit among some of the 1,800 employees? If proven worthless it would not be surprising if such a suit were filed.

Both the U.S. National Bank people and the Crocker National Bank interests would be sensitive to a class action suit. (That's a suit filed by a few persons in the interest of all persons affected). U.S. people would have a sensitivity because they would be the object of the suit.

Assuming the suit to be successful but without assets to meet the demand, what then? Could the Crocker people successfully co-exist with those newly acquired employees who are now financially disgruntled?

It would be unfortunate if they couldn't since the rapid growth of the U.S. Bank organization was made possible by the ability and loyalty of the fellows and girls in the lower eschelon of the branches.



NEARING COMPLETION — The Skyline Wesleyan Church at 1345 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove is nearing completion according to Ed Barrier, superintendent for the Art A. Gussa Engineering and General Construction firm that is building the new facility. The church will seat some 1000 persons and is a marvel of new construction. Fourteen laminated arches support the curved roof that is 44 feet high from the inside floor. The front will be completed with bronzed glass. A new parking lot on the lower ground behind the church has been completed.

Halloween Can Become Real HORROR Parents Are Urged To Take Care

By Ed Grantham

It's a magic world of spooks, gobblins, skeltens, punipkins, and the sounds of happy children as they practice the age-old Halloween trick or treat game on October 31.

But for many parents and youngsters Halloween can become a time of tragedy. Each year many children are injured or killed by motorists unable to see them in their dark costumes.

Others are badly burned as their costumes are ignited by flames from lighted candles or lanterns.

Some are even cut or poisoned by persons that don't care for the trick or treaters. Parents are cautioned to take special precautions to ensure that this Halloween is a safe one.

"Use only bright costumes. A white-sheeted ghost is more easily seen by a passing motorist than a black-clad witch. But even brightly clothed children may be hard to distinguish as the evening darkens so Florescent strips which would make them even more visible, is suggested.

"Do not allow children to carry lighted candles, or lanterns, or any type of open flame. Many children have been burned in past years when their costumes, often made of extremely flammable material, caught fire. A flashlight would be easier to carry, and would make crossing the street safer.

"Be sure to chaperone all children who would not normally be allowed outside alone at night. Younger children should be out only in the early evening. The discreet presence of an adult can stop a problem situation from developing.

"A major problem each Halloween is children who have been cut, drugged, or poisoned. Apples and cup cakes can have razors hidden in them. Any kind of non-commercially packaged edible can have drugs or other poisonous ingredients added to them. Be very careful that gum, candy, and other snacks are securely wrapped, and that the wrappings have not been opened and resealed. It is best to trick or treat in your neighborhood.

"Keep a light on in front of your house so that there is no danger of children being injured by walking into objects or holes they cannot see in the dark. If there is a pet in the household, keep it away from the door.

"Children enjoy putting on make-up as part of their costume but be careful of what they use. Cheap make-up can in many instances cause complexion problems for youngsters—or hurt their eyes.

"When your child goes out for the evening, make sure you know where the youngster is going and what time he or she should return."

With reports that older youngsters and groups of students had been causing trouble in the past years, the sheriff's department has planned to increase their patrols for Halloween night.

The deputies will be looking for troublesome groups and those involved in malicious destruction. Residents may report disturbances by telephoning 232-3113.

"It's your responsibility to make sure your Halloween doesn't become a real HORROR.

Social Security Takes Over Payments Jan. 1

More than half-a-million Californians aged 65 or over, the blind, and disabled on public assistance rolls have been officially notified this month that their monthly checks will come from the Federal Government, Social Security Administration, beginning Jan. 1, 1974.

The notices in both English and Spanish language versions, were mailed by the California State Department of Social Welfare. Local county welfare offices will continue to mail the payments until the end of this year. The notices mailed with the October Medi-Cal card, emphasized that no person currently receiving public assistance would receive less than before. The state will continue to provide other services to qualified persons and will add to the federal payment under certain circumstances.

Funds for the new supplemental security income program will come from general funds of the U.S. Treasury, personal taxes, corporation taxes, or other taxes. Checks will consist of federal and state money, a basic federal grant, plus a state supplement.

Persons already receiving local county assistance checks need not apply, as their checks automatically come under SSI program from the Social Security Administration beginning January 1. Social Security checks will also continue to come to persons already receiving them. Medi-Cal cards will continue to be mailed by the state.

Persons receiving funds under the aid to families with dependent children Program (AFDC) are not involved in the new program and will continue to receive their checks from their county welfare office.

People in financial need who are 65 or older, and who are blind or disabled, and not presently receiving aid, should contact their nearest Social Security office to determine whether they are eligible under the SSI program. This program will be administered by the Social Security Administration, and will be completely separate from the Social Security program.

Daylight Saving Time Ends Sun.

Daylight saving time will end at 2 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 28, when clocks will be set back one hour.

TJ Traffic Violation Problems Eased by Sheriff Duffy's Plan

It's going to be easier to solve traffic violation dificulties in Tijuana following an agreement between San Diego's Sheriff John Duffy and Tijuana's Police Chief Ernesto Vizcaino Garrida.

The program was outlined Friday at a press conference called by Sheriff Duffy at which Chief Vizacaino Garrida and his corps of executive officers attended.

Beginning now, an American motorist given a traffic citation in Tijuana will also be given a courtesy memo with instruction in English listing the amount of the fine, where and how to pay. If the motorist wants to mail his check in, the address of the treasurer together with the address is on the back of the citation.

The agreement changes the "cash only" policy previously in effect.

If the motorist fails to pay, the Sheriff's office, which has been notified of the failure, sends a courtesy memo asking that the penalty be paid. If that is ignored, the motorist is put on a police pickup order and arrested upon returning to Tijuana.

Duffy said he plans to use the same system in reverse but he noted that he has neither the intention or authority of enforcing Tijuana traffic citations.

In the past tourists receiving traffic violations in Tijuana were taken into custody and drivers licenses and license plates on autos confiscated until the fines were paid.

No traffic officer is permitted to accept money for fines, Vizcaino Garrida said. He noted that 328 officers were fired under his regime for bribery or other infractions.

Local Highway Projects Included In New Budget

The Lemon Grove ave., interchange is part of $929,800,000 State Highway Budget the California Highway Commission adopted for the 1974-75 fiscal year which begins July 1.

The interchange is part of a program of $4,450,000 to complete the financing of revising the interchange between Route 94 and Route 125 near La Mesa. The project will complete 94 as a freeway between completed sections west of Route 125 and Bancroft drive.

The project includes constructing the Lemon Grove ave., interchange (formerly called Costa Bella). The estimated cost is $9,150,000, of which $4,700,000 had been budgeted in the 1973-74 fiscal year.

The budget also included these items:

Realign Route 94 to eliminate curves and widen the roadway to a 40-foot all-paved section with shoulders to provide a passing lane for uphill traffic between 1.5 miles and 0.6 mile west of Barrett Junction. The estimated cost is $570,000.

Realign Route 94 to ease a curve, about three miles south of Jamul at Rancho Jamul Road. The project includes improving drainage by constructing a culvert at Jamul Creek. Estimated cost, $220,000.

$3,440,000 to complete the financing of constructing the eight-lane Interstate 805 Freeway in San Diego between just north of Imperial Avenue and just north Route 94. This 1.2 mile project on Interstate 805 will open the route's entire 28 miles to through traffic. Estimated cost, $8,770,000, of which the State's share is $8,620,000. $5,180,000 had been budgeted in the 1973-74 fiscal year. The City will contribute the balance.

The commission said the projects listed were on reserve funds and actual budgeting must wait the project's clearance of California's Environmental Quality Act of 1970.

Crocker Bank— Business as Usual

The Lemon Grove branch of the former U.S. National Bank—now Crocker National Bank—is going on as usual, bank manager Bob Guest said Wednesday.

"It has been so normal, even last Friday when the changeover was made, that I am surprised and pleased.

"Naturally people are concerned and ask many questions. The one asked most often, however, is what to do with the U.S. National Bank checks.

"The answer is to keep on using them. Eventually depositers will get Crocker checks.

"It is gratifying to me that our depositors did not suffer in the changeover."

The bank is located at Broadway and Grove. Guest has been manager since January, 1970.

Back To School Program Offered For Adults Sat.

The third annual "So You Wat to Go Back to School," a free program conducted by all area colleges and universities for adults thinking about further education, has been set for this Saturday (Oct. 27).

UCSD Extension will be host for the event, scheduled to get underway at 10 a.m. in the Auditorium of the Humanities-Library Building on UCSD's Revelle campus. It is open to the public, and newcomers to the area may find it particularly useful.

Psychologists will give brief talks about returning to school as an adult, and college counselors will offer personal guidance and describe resources available at each school.

Specific information on a number of items will be available: new educational opportunities for women and minorities, financial aids, careers and vocations, and teacher credentialing. Also, experts will be on hand to evaluate prior educational experience, including grade transcripts.

Although it had been announced earlier that a number of SYWTGBTS days would be held during the year, the conference on Saturday is now the only one scheduled. According to Marjorie Shaevitz, who has organized the community-wide project each time, the Extension-sponsored day is unique in "bringing all local schools together at one time for this kind of information and counseling."

Mrs. Shaevitz is the editor of a new, free booklet about San Diego's educational resources. The booklet will be available Saturday, and after Saturday copies may be picked up at the Extension registration office.

At one inormation table, Veronica Lee, a woman who went back to school after attending the first SYWTGBTS day in 1971, will talk with prospective returnees. Mrs. Lee struck up a conversation with Mesa College's head counselor Murl Gibson at that first conference, completed freshman and sophomore courses at Mesa, and is now a junior in French literature at UCSD.

A wife and mother who began college work at the University of Manchester, England, more than 25 years ago, she says she must have had the thought of going back for a degree in her mind all along, but encouragement she received at the guidance day helped her actually begin the process.

She is currently taking 16 quarter units the the University, a course load which she finds puts a cramp in the recreation schedule she prefers.

"But when I hit my stride it won't be so bad," she says.

"Except for the time schoolwork takes away from other things, she finds it really exciting. The French and English writers of the 18th century are her particular favorites.

Saturday's guidance session will end at 2 p.m. Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch.

For further information about the program, please telephone 453-2000, extension 2061.

18th Annual Apple Days Underway By Kiwanis

In the past 17 years the club has sold over 1,750,000 apples and donated in excess of $32,000 to Mt. Miguel High School, Helix High School and Lemon Grove Jr., High for band uniforms and teaching aids.

The club has also donated to the Chilean earthquake aid fund, Red Cross for ditty bags to military men overseas, C.A.R.E., medical aid to children, and gave many Christmas presents to under priviledged children.

The money is also being used to set up student loans at Grossmont Jr., College and San Diego State.

Heating Gas Price To Rise in San Diego

LOS ANGELES—The California Public Utilities Commission has granted San Diego Gas & Electric authority to increase gas rates $1.9 million a year to offset the anticipated higher cost of gas SDG&E will pay to its supplier, Southern California Gas, beginning Nov. 2.

Bills for the typical residential usage of 841 therms of gas a year will go up about 17c a month.

'Good Grief Charlie Brown There Is A Great Pumpkin'

A mountain of pumpkins are at the San Diego Zoo where they will be on display until the weekend before Halloween and then given away free to children visiting the Zoo.

The pumpkins — 15,000 of them in all — arrived from Turlock, Calif., aboard two 40-foot trucks and were unloaded near the Zoo's Skyfari cable lift. The Zoo's Carol elephant, garbed in Halloween attire, was on hand to help with the unloading effort, which took most of the day.

"We think the 15,000 pumpkins make up the world's largest pumpkin patch," said Zoo public relations director Jay Wilson. "And, if it is the world's largest, we anticipate visits from all sorts of Halloween gremlins in the next few weeks—perhaps even the Great Pumpkin itself."

The pumpkin giveaway, which is being held in cooperation with local Sears stores, also features a contest for children under 16 to guess the exact weight of the mountain of 15,000 pumpkins. First prize in the weight-guessing contest is a portable color television set donated by Sears.

Wilson said each pumpkin weighs between four and six pounds and suggested that children base their entries in the weight-guessing contest on that information. Prizes for runners-up in the weight-guessing contest include a large toy leopard and memberships in the Zoological Society of San Diego.

Area Church To Observe World Community Day

Heartland Area Church Women United will celebrate World Community Day, Friday, Nov. 2. 1973 First Methodist Church Lemon Grove Sanctuary, 3205 Washington st.

2,000 communities will express concern for nearby and global neighbors as they dramatize the theme "Where In The World Is My Neighbor". A scholarship luncheon will follow in Fellowship hall. Donation 50 cents.

The days celebration will be patterned on the style of the Good Samaritan, actors will imitate the Samaritan, and Traveler. Their concern of the aging, single woman, migrants, prisoners, blacks and other racial groups in our own nation and all countries.

The offering will be to meet the needs of neighbors throughout the world. Just a few ways Church women United will give concrete concern for neighbors, war-torn victims of Vietnam, Nigeria, Indonesia, and Ireland—moral and material support; for women in the Caribbean, Brazil, Costa Rica, Kenya, Zambia, Aaire and world community.

A scholarship for a local student studying for ministry or missionary will be granted from the proceeds of the luncheon.

Church Women participate in the "Church World Service Clothing Appeal" by providing good, usable clothing for the dispossessed and needy of the world as well as sewing cut-out garments.

Collection center is United Church of Christ Lemon Grove, 2770 Glebe st. Call Church office for deadline, 466-0503.

These contributions may be designated for blankets, shoes for children, self-help projects, or for the "Where Most Needed". Last year "Where Most Needed" was used for hurricane victims in Texas, for flood relief in South Dakota and Pennsylvania, for medical supplies and vaccines in Sierra Leone, the Dominican Republic and Indonesia.

Women Plan Fashion Show For Benefit

The "Greatest Fashion Show On Earth" is coming to the Town and Country Convention Center, Nov. 3 when the San Diego District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior Membership will present "A Circus of Fashion" to benefit the new San Diego Institute for Burn Medicine.

Members of the Lemon Grove Junior Women's Club have been working with 400 other members of the clubs within the District in a combined effort to raise funds for the Institute at University Hospital, which opened a six-bed ward on August 25.

Clowns, circus acts and balloons will highlight the fashions from Walker Scott with music by the Joe Foss combo. The "Circus" will begin at 11 a.m. with cocktails and a boutique of hand crafted items, followed by a luncheon and the fashion show.

A limited number of tickets are still available and may be obtained by writing the Lemon Grove Juniors, P.O. Box 42, Lemon Grove, 92045 or by contacting club president, Annamarie Padula, 460-7559.

SV Historical Society Meets

The regular meeting of the Spring Valley Historical Society is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m., in the old adobe building, Memory ln., just off Bancroft dr. The meeting will be open to the public, said vice president Charlotta Phillips.

Main order of business will be the membership campaign. Mrs. Phillips said students from four different schools have been excavating on the adjacent property in hopes of finding artifacts. Several of these valuable items have already been uncovered and turned over to the Society, and are on display in the Museum.

San Diego County' population of approximately 1,600,000 ranks third in California, exceeded only by Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Mt. Miguel Band In Competition For 1974 Rose Parade Honors

Nature has provided many flowers for man to enjoy but for Mt. Miguel High School's marching band there is only one type worth caring about —the rose.

Miguel has taken it as its own five previous occasions and Sunday afternoon the Matador musicians shoot for a sixth and with it a trip to Pasadena on New Years Day.

Sunday, buoyed by a sweepstakes victory in last week's Poway Parade, Director Dean Immel sends his 98-piece competition unit against the finest city and county high school bands in the 16th annual Autumn Band Review. Winner of the affair earns the right to represent San Diego in the Tournament of Roses Parade.

Competition, to be held at the Naval Training Center's Prebble Field beginning at 1 p.m., is open to the public. Entrance to the field is through NTC's Gate 3.

Mt. Miguel has won the honor five times, more than any other band in the Autumn Review's history. The red and black dressed Matador steppers were picked in 1963, '64, '66, '69 and '71. Since 1964, competition regulations have stipulated that no band may represent San Diego two consecutive years.

Approximately 30 bands have been entered and Mt. Miguel, Helix and Vista are ranked as probably the top three groups. Orange Glen, winner of the 1972 Review, will be the honor band but is not eligible for a repeat win.

Mt. Miguel has been under a heavy practice schedule since mid-August and has already appeared in three parades this year, Fallbrook, Columbus Day and last week at Poway. In the sweepstakes triumph at Poway, the Matadors scored 94.7 of a possible 100 points. In addition, Miguel had the highest musical excellence total and drum major Alan Meyers was voted best in his category.

Fronting the Matador marchers will be the 10-girl Banderette team which carries the familiar red, white and black fans spelling the school's name. Also entered is the 28-girl cape corps, winner of a first place award in Fallbrook.

Debbite Rilling is head Banderette, Sue Wilson the corps captain and Colleen O'Connor the featured baton twirler.

Operation SHARE Aids In Teaching Children

Maria spent most of her time in the principal's office at her elementary school. She was in the sixth grade, but this was her first year in school and she was considered a severe discipline problem in the classroom. Although she had lived in the United States all her life, she had not started public school until she was 12 years old.

Within a week of the arrival of her Operation SHARE tutor, the change in Maria was amazing. She began to show more interest in her schoolwork, and her behavior in the classroom — as well as her grades—improved markedly.

Operation SHARE is a county-wide tutorial program administered by the San Diego County Department of Education in cooperation with the school districts within the county and the State Department of Education. Through SHARE, 1,200 volunteer college and high school students provided a one-to-one relationship for an equal number of students during the 1972-73 school year. These students were referred from 117 elementary schools in 14 school districts, according to M. Ted Dixon, county superintendent.

"This year approximately 1,500 children have been referred to the program," Dixon said. "These children are potentially successful students, who, for a variety of reasons, are having difficulty in school. They have had very few successes in school and often lack the self-confidence and methods for future achievement. Most of the children referred are several months to several years below grade level. The greatest needs are in reading, language skills, and math. The majority of the children are in grades kindergarten through sixth and are children the teachers believe could benefit from a one-to-one relationship."

The tutor is not a professional but a concerned human being who volunteers his time in the role of listener, friend, and helper in guiding his tutee to learn. The tutor has regular conferences with the teacher who is a valuable resource for information, ideas, and materials.

SHARE program assistants are assigned to seven colleges and universities in San Diego County and to many of the high schools. SHARE offices are located at San Diego State University, United States International University, San Diego City College, Mesa College, Grossmont College, Palomar College, Southwestern College, and the County Department of Education.

The SHARE staff provides on-going assistance, training, and supervision for each tutor. Monthly workshops are conducted at each college campus where tutors meet with teachers, counselors, and specialists in reading, behavior/motivation, and mathematics. SHARE coordinators are available for individual counseling and can provide workshops, games and a bibliography of pertinent publications.

The children are not the only ones who benefit from these tutoring situations. Many of the tutors and the tutees' families experience their first meaningful involvement with a person of a different cultural, ethnic, or socio-economic background.

The demand for tutors greatly exceeds the supply! Any concerned individual who wishes to volunteer two hours a week to work with an elementary school child in his area may become involved in Operation SHARE by calling the San Diego County Department of Education, 278-6400, extension 375.

Rembrandt Subject of Art Through the Ages

"Rembrandt's Christ" will be the featured film in the final program of the series "Art Through the Ages" scheduled for screening at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 30 in the College Grove Shopping Center Community Hall.

The inspiration for Rembrandt's work came from the Bible and everyday life. In his drawings, very few of which can be seen by the public, Rembrandt presents the opportunity of understanding his creative processes. These drawings, because of their powerful directness of expression, belong among the greatest art treasures of the world. From 1400 drawings in 62 collections in 12 countries scattered around the world, 160 were selected for this film. These drawings belong to some of the most profound expressions of humanity and provide a rare opportunity for experiencing the heights of religious art. An additional short film titled "What is a Good Drawing," will accompany "Rembrandt's Christ."

Robert Sheridan, a teacher in the La Mesa Spring Valley School District, will introduce the films and lead the discussion on them. Sheridan, who has been painting for ten years, is a member of the Foothills Art Association.

The public is invited to view this award-winning film produced by Anthony M. Roland and cosponsored by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services and the Foothills Art Association. There is no charge for admission.

Many Open Classes For Adults At Helix

"The day is coming when there will be no distinction between all levels of education, when high school students, adults, and collegians may all attend the same classes."

This is what Leonard Busch, Helix Adult school principal says. He feels that there are a lot of opportunities for students and adults at night school.

Some courses offered include computer programming, commercial arts, fundamentals of the stock market, genealogy, geriatricts, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, and Japanese.

Classes are instructed by members of the community who with expertise in their fields, and who display enthusiasm and a desire to help others, Busch emphasizes.

Adults 18 years old may enroll in either day classes at Parkway Adult Center or night classes at Helix High.

"Unlike most institutions there is a minimum of red tape, no registration, no entrance examinations and no records are kept. Simply report to the location of the class desired and enroll with the teacher, he said.

Registration fee is $1 per subject per semester. Minors under 21 are not charged.

Helix ROTC On Tour

By Don Richards

Helix' Junior ROTC went to Miramar Naval Air Station recently to "familiarize themselves with the various aspects of all the Armed Forces," Lt. Col. Joe Hester, unit instructor, said.

"Miramar provides the aspect of the Navy and Air Force combined," Hester continued. "We saw the new F-14 Navy Flier, and a program concerning the physiology training of downed pilots and the effects of high altitude flight and lack of oxygen."

One of the exciting programs that the group saw was the maintenance training group for officers as well as enlisted men. It is a repair shop for the fuel, hydraulic and electrical system, but mostly for the engines.

One of the biggest highlights of the trip was the Navy "chow." The group could eat all they wanted and they did, Hester said.

LTC Hester plans to cover all the services this school year. He plans to go aboard boats and ships, and to also go to Camp Pendleton.

On October 28, the Helix ROTC group pans to familiarize themseves with weapons under the supervision of the California Army National Guard, 2nd Battalion, 185th Armor Division. The weapons will be the M-16, M-3 grease gun and the .45 caliber pistol.

Group To Tour Bancroft House

The Congress of History, a group of delegates representing 46 historical organizations in San Diego County, will visit Spring Valley's national historic landmark, the Bancroft Ranch House, Saturday. The event is sponsored by the Spring Valley Historica Society.

Guided tours of the Bancroft House Museum and the archaeological excavations will begin at 10:45 a.m. At noon the delegates will gather at Memory Lane Center for a luncheon address by Mrs. Thomas C. Webster, president of the Spring Valley Historical Society. Her topic will be, "A Quick Look at Spring Valley History". A business meeting will follow to continue planning for the Congress of History's 10th annual convention to be held in San Diego in April 1974.

The luncheon chairman is Mrs. Warren Lewis and hostesses include Mrs. David Bailey, Mrs. Ted Arrington, Mrs. Ted Phillips, Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Ronald Smith, Mrs. Frieda Ralston, and Mrs. William Fitzpatrick, all of Spring Valley.

The Bancroft Ranch House, located at 9050 Memory lane in Spring Valley, was built in 1856 by Augustus S. Ensworth, a prominent San Diego attorney. The house was constructed of adobe and the timbers of the wrecked sailing ship, the Clarissa Andrews. In 1885, the home was purchased by Hubert Howe Bancroft, noted historian, and was used as a studio while he wrote part of his famous western historical series.

The Bancroft Ranch House, now owned by the Spring Valley Historical Society, is operated as a free museum open to the public. The museum, located at 9050 Memory lane, is open 1 to 4 p.m., Wednesdays through Saturday.

The County of San Diego spends more of its budget in the 13 cities of the County than the combined budgets of all 13 cities.

Local Student Wins California Honor

Chuck McPherson, of 3323 Ybarra rd., Spring Valley and a student at Monte Vista High School has been honored for his participation in the first annual Official Bicentennial Medallion Competition.

His design, entitled, "To Shining Sea," won him an honorary membership in the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of California, according to Albert C. Johnson, executive director.

The Bicentennial Medallion program in California allows every citizen to participate in the observance and it highlights students' interest in the Bicentennial by encouraging them to compete for scholarships awarded for the best design of official medallions to be issued in each year of the observance. Themes of the bicentennial focus on Heritage '76, Festival USA and Horizons '76.

The Lincoln Mint, of Chicago, will strike the official medallions and will provide scholarships totaling $10,000 by 1976.

Sale of the sterling silver and bronze medals will help fund the projects for the state's observance of the Bicentennial. They will be available starting October 29 statewide at participating financial institutions and retail outlets.

Five Foreign Students Attending Helix High

By Gail Henry

Fire foreign exchange students from Germany, Sweden, and Ecuador are spending this year at Helix High School.

Klas Astrand, Consuelo Habela, Claudia Hahn, Eva Isender, and Babs Schroeter are sponsored by American Field Service. Youth for Understanding, Student International Scholarships, and International Cultural Exchange. The Helix sponsor of the exchange is the I-Club which is involved in welcoming foreign students and cultural projects among the foreign language classes.

Klas Astrand, AFS student, is from Sweden and is presently staying with the Rev. Eurich family. His father is a dentist and he has two younger brothers. Klas has two years left in his Swedish high school or gymnasium where he takes 12 to 15 subjects.

Consuelo Habela, 1CX student, is from Quito Ecuador, and her host is the Jesus Wilson family. "My home is very big, and the land is very mountainous. My ambitions are to work as a secretary. I wish to study languages at the Catholic University, then travel to Germany and France for two years, eventually to become a linguist."

Claudia Hahn is an AFS students from a small town, Ifle, near Colon in western Germany. Her host is the J. Comber family whose daughter, Cindy attends Helix. Claudia has travelled extensively, and her ambitions are journalistic in nature. The school in Germany are entirely different from California, according to Claudia. There are three kinds of schools, university prep, vocational, and laborer, with 12 to 16 subjects.

Since the teachers, and not the students, move between periods, Claudia has had the same classmates for seven years.

Eva Isender, SIS student, is from a suburb of Stockholm, Sweden, and is staying with the Louis J. Giefers. She lives on an island overlooking the city where she has one more year of high school. Afterwards she expects to enter the university and study psychology.

"The entire system in Sweden is much more open, and there are not as many rules. For sport, we play 14-man handbal which is much like soccer."

Babs Schroeter, YFU student, is from a hamlet outside of Einbeck in the eastern part of West Germany, and is staying with the Elmo Wards. Her ambitions are to enter the university and become a translator.

Einbeck is only 15 miles from the East Germany border. Babs has traveled through East Germany on the Autobahn, and favors the Ostnolitik Brandt's policy of detente.

San Diego River Channel Breeding Killer Misquito

The State Department of Health laboratory has confirmed a case of St. Louis encephalitis in a 12-year-old La Mesa boy, according to an announcement made by the County of San Diego Department of Public Health.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said it is believed the boy was infected with the disease, which is carried by mosquitoes, while playing in the upper San Diego River channel near Santee.

Dr. Askew said the victim has apparently recovered from the disease after being hospitalized in early September.

"St. Louis encephalitis can be very serious and may sometimes be fatal," Dr. Askew commented. "Therefore, we are very concerned about its occurrence in this county."

The disease, also known as sleeping sickness, affects the brain. Symptoms of a severe infection are high fever, disorientation, coma and tremors.

"The boy was reportedly bitten by mosquitoes in an area that has had a persistent mosquito problem," Dr. Askew pointed out. "The Health Department has repeatedly urged that action be taken in the Lakeside-Santee area to stop the discharge of inadequately treated sewage into the San Diego River channel.

"Because effluent has been discharged for so long into the channel by the Santee County Water District and the Lakeside Sanitation District, the underground water basin is filled and the water that is being discharged now has no place to go," Dr. Askew said. "It collects in pools on the surface, providing excellent breeding places for mosquitoes.

"The Santee District dumps four million gallons and the Lakeside District empties one and one-half million gallons of partially treated sewage into the channel each day," Dr. Asked noted. "This has to stop before efforts to control mosquitoes can be successful.

"The discharged effluent is rich in nutrients and stimulates vegetation growth in the channel. The vegetation makes it impossible to find and drain all mosquito breeding pools.

"The Lakeside District is in the process of hooking up to the San Diego Metropolitan Sewage System. The Santee District, however, has made no effort to stop its discharge."

Dr. Askew said efforts have been made to stop population growth in the Lakeside-Santee area until provisions are made to handle the growing volume of sewage. He noted the Health Department has recommended for over a year that approval of new subdivision and parcel maps be denied.

"In January of this year," Dr. Askew commented, "the Board of Supervisors voted to prohibit new division of land and subdivision approvals. Since May, both districts have been under a cease-and-desist order from the San Diego Regional Water Quality Control Board to stop the discharge."

Dr. Askew said not all mosquitoes carry encephalitis. He said the Culex tarsalis mosquito is the principal carrier in California. "Only the female can bite and transmit the disease if infected."

It is thought the mosquitoes become infected after feeding on birds which serve as the reservoir for the St. Louis encephalitis virus. According to Dr. Askew, the virus can not be transmitted directly from person to person.

Dr. Askew urged those responsible to take immediate action so that mosquito breeding can be controlled in the San Diego River channel.

"If no action is taken soon, a very serious public health hazard may develop in the Lakeside-Santee area." He predicted the Grantville area below Padre Dam would be the next problem area if corrective measures are not implemented.

"With everyone's cooperation, this potentially serious public health hazard can be corrected," Dr. Askew said in closing.

Patrol To Analyze . . Trailer Faults

The california Highway Patrol will analyze mechanical and structural failures that cause mobile homes to break down on the highway during a six-month period, Commissioner Walter Pudinski said.

If facts warrant, the information collected would be used in support of legislation upgrading structural and tire standards

Mobile Homes are oversize vehicles transported by permit. Their extra width can produce unusual traffic hazards when breakdowns force them to park at roadside, particularly along freeways.

The study calls for a report of every breakdown or accident involving a mobile home, with emphasis on tire failures, deficient side coverings, and faulty frames, hitches, wheels, tongues, axles and suspension.

Pudinski said the Patrol and the Trailer Coach Association "in 1969 agreed on voluntary engineering standards to solve the breakdown problem," but "breakdowns and accidents have not been satisfactorily reduced."

The Commissioner said that regulatory legislation "would be sought when the study is completed March 31. 1974, if the information shows there are problems which should be corrected."

Dr. Powell To Talk At Bancroft Church

Dr. Ivor Powell, "The Man from Wales", will be conducting a prophetic and evangelistic conference, Oct. 28-Nov. 2. at the Bancroft Baptist Church, 2300 Bancroft, Spring Valley.

Home Canned Foods Can Kill When Not Prepared Right

The only sure way to kill botulism spores when canning foods at home is to use a pressure cooker and to follow directions exactly, California's health director said today.

"And if there is any doubt about the safety of home-canned food someone has given you, make sure it is boiled vigorously for at least 15 minutes before eaten or even tasted," said Dr. J. M. Stubblebine.

The health official said greater public interest in home gardens and canning because of higher food prices prompted him to remind the public of poisoning hazards from bacteria in the soil.

Dr. Stubblebine stressed the need for extreme caution in preparing low-acid foods for future use because, with botulism, "there is often no second chance." Nearly one quarter of the botulism cases in the United States since 1960 have been fatal, and most were traced to home-canned foods, especially vegetables.

Dr. Stubblebine said botulism is food poisoning from a toxin produced by a group of bacteria called Clostridium botulinum. In nature, it is found in two forms: a dormant spore and a living or vegetable cell. When growth conditions are unfavorable—too hot, too cold, no food, no moisture, etc. — the bacteria become dormant, which is the spore stage. Toxin is not produced in this stage.

The botulinum spore germinates when conditions become favorable. One of the most impotrant conditions for growth is absence of air or oxygen. As the spore grows, it produces a toxin so deadly that botulism-poisoned food can cause death when it is only tasted, not swallowed, Dr. Stubblebine said. The most important thing about botulism, he said, is that a person cannot tell, for sure, that a food is poisonous by smelling or tasting it.

"The only way to kill botulism spores when canning foods," Dr. Stubblebine said, "is to use extremely high temperatures for a considerable length of time."

"The only practical way to do this without long, unreliable periods of boiling is with a pressure cooker. The cooker must be operated according to directions and must have a gauge that is accurate."

He said the boiling water bath method of canning is not safe for canning meats, poultry, fish or vegetables. However, since botulism spores do not ordinarily grow in acid surroundings, the boiling water bath may be used for canning high-acid foods such as tomatoes, fruit, rhubarb and pickles.

Even though botulism will usually not grow in high-acid foods, there have been occasional cases of poisoning from home canned high-acid foods. Dr. Stubblebine said this occurred because the food began to spoil, mold used up the acid in the food and the botulism spores germinated, producing toxin. If food is abnormal in odor or appearance, throw it away, he said.

New Programs Shown At Fleet Theatre

The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theatre has changed programs.

Gone are "Paradise Island" and "A Voyage to a Planet." Replacing it are two presentations, different from the initial program but following the same general style.

"Standing Up Country," as was "Paradise," is a travel adventure. The domed screen and the Omnimax facilities puts the viewer into the action. The cameramen visited the Colorado River rapids, took a trip on the Toltec Railroad, visited Indian cliff dwellings and filmed the famed U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds roaring across the curved screen with the thundering sounds following them as they crossed. The shots were taken by the new fish-eye camera in the area where Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Utah meet and took nine months to film.

The second presentation is "Capture the Sun" in which the Ominmax camera seeks out secrets of the sun and other near stars. This 22-minute production employs the theatre's unique computor-controlled Space Transit Simulator which was tailored expressly for the Space Theatre. The theatre houses the largest planetarium dome in the Western hemisphere, integrates a 10,000-image star projector, sun and planet image projectors, zoom slide projectors and strobe lights in re-creating the known universe.

TOP RUSHER — Mount Miguel's Steve Fleming (20) is stopped by Joe Quartuccio (77) and teammates after picking up valuable yardage against Granite Hills in 28-8 win. Fleming led all rushers with 106 yards on 23 carries, his second successive 100-plus yards gained game. Matadors host Helix Friday night. (Bill Ott, Jr. Phot)

Mt. Miguel Matadors Romp 28-8 Over Granite Hills

by Bill Ott, Jr.

EL CAJON — Fortunately, for the Mount Miguel Matadors there are 48 minutes in a high school football game and not just 13 seconds.

Last Friday night the Matadors traveled to Valley Stadium to face Granite Hills and after 13 seconds things looked bad for Coach Dwight Morris' Matadors. Chris Jones grabbed the opening kickoff for the Eagles and flew 94 yards for a touchdown. Gene Jenkins booted the PAT and the Eagles were ahead, 7-0.

While many football teams may have folded after a quick touchdown such as the one put on the scoreboard by Jones, the Matadors made the most out of the remaining 47 minutes and 47 seconds to maul the Eagles, 28-8, and remain in the Grossmont League football scramble with El Capitan and Monte Vista, two teams still remaining on the Miguel schedule.

The Matador defense enjoyed a super night, throttling Larry Downs, the Eagles' dangeous running back, who finished the night with just 24 yards in 11 carries, his poorest effort in two years. Downs was unable to gain any yardage at all in the second half. The Eagles managed only 57 yards on the ground while amassing 162 yards through the air.

Following the early Granite Hills touchdown, the Matadors came right back, driving downfield behind a mixture of runs and passes with Gallagher scoring from the three. John Hulsey's PAT kick attempt was blocked and the Eagles led, 7-6.

In the third chapter the Matadors moved out in front 14-7 when Rocky Lancaster gathered in a Madigan pass and romped 28 yards into paydirt. Gallagher snagged a Madigan pass for the two-point PAT.

The Matadors added 14 points in the fourth stanza when Gallagher bulled in from the six and Lancaster and Madigan hooked up for a 71-yard touchdown play. Hulsey successfully booted the PAT's for the final 28-7.

The Matadors host unpredictable Helix tomorrow night in their annual rivalry battle begining at 8 p.m.

Florida Goes Against Aztecs This Saturday

A hungry band of Florida State Seminoles will bring their sharp passing attack and hard-running Hodges Michell to San Diego Stadium Saturday night for a 7:30 p.m. date with San Diego State University.

Florida State, winless in six football games this fall, is not used to losing and should come into Saturday's game ready to play. The Seminoles were 8-3 in 1971 and 7-4 last season, but have fallen upon inconsistency this season.

"We've been looking at film," said Aztec head coach Claude Gilbert, "and I'll tell you Florida State doesn't look like an 0-6 team. We were very impressed by their game against Kansas (a 28-0 loss). They have a couple of guys who can throw the ball well and Mitchell is a very fine runner.

"We're going to have to be ready to play or we could get trapped. Florida State has to be a hungry team."

The throwers are senior quarterback Billy Sexton and sophomore Mark Orlando. Sexton has hit 39 of 92 for 538 yards and Orlando 36 of 68.

The Aztecs ran their record to 4-1 last week with a 13-10 win over Pacific Coast Athletic Association foe University of Pacific. San Diego State needed two field goals by Benny Ricardo of 27 and 32 yards to win the game. The two field goals in a game tied a school record set by Dennis Haughn last year against Pacific.

"I'm just happy to get out of Stockton with a win," Gilbert said. "I thought we played well and generally was pleased with the team. We're still making a lot of mistakes, but I hope that will end soon."

Linebacker Joe Amaral was named PCAA Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts against the Tigers. It was Amarals fumble recovery in the final minutes on the Aztec four that stopped a Pacific drive.

The Aztecs ran the Veer offense only briefly Saturday, bringing back the Pro Set offense along with a Power I and a full house backfield setup.

Gulls Return Home For Game with Bucks

The Gulls return to home ice on Saturday, bringing with them the "Tremendous" Tommy Trevelyan who scored a hat trick at the Arena last Saturday.

What's more he scored it in one period and in so doing, tied the team record.

It was a new record for him—the first hat trick in his professional career. A hat trick is the fine art of making three goals in one game.

The Gulls play the Denver Spurs at Denver Friday before returning with Hat Trick Trevelyan for their first San Diego meeting with the Portland Buckaroos. The Denver game will be broadcast on KOGO at 6:45. The home game goes on at 7:45 with Mike Lange calling the play-by-play.

Familiar faces will be in the Buck's lineup including the always tough Art Jones and the amazing if aging 43-year old Andy Hebenton. Former Gulls include goalie Dave Kelly, left wing Howie Hughes and defenseman Larry McNabb.

Tickets are available for Saturday's game at the Arena and all Arena ticket agencies.

Bill Spencer In Cajon Win

Local ace John Dineen of El Cajon led the super stock car, 100 lap, Open Competition race Saturday night at Cajon Speedway for the first 18 laps.

The fastest stock car to circle the oval, driven by Hugh Pearson jumped into the lead after 3 laps of sparring with Dineen.

On the 8th lap, Lanny Pemberton of Lemon Grove blew an engine and 5 cars went hard into the north wall including Chuck Becker Jr., of San Bernardino, Bucky Peralta of El Cajon, Eddie Bradshaw of Bakersfield and Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley, 1973 Cajon champion. No one was injured.

Pearson pulled out to a big lead and began lapping cars and was a half a lap ahead of Richard White of Escondido by the 44th round.

Dineen had blown a tire when White took over after Pearson lost oil pressure and pulled into the infield.

White, Bill Spencer, Norwalk dueled through traffic until the 76th round when Peralta blew his engine causing a 4 car pile-up of Ed Hale, John Borneman and Ivan Baldwin of San Bernardino. Borneman was taken to Grossmont Hospital for a broken shoulder.

The race was resumed with White leading the field till the 89th circle when Spencer took over and went on to win by 5 car lengths.

Two Garcias Meet In Ring At Coliseum

Promoter Mickey Davies announced he will present professional boxing on a weekly basis starting Nov. 9 at the San Diego Coliseum, with heavyweight contender Jerry Quarry headlining the card.

"Boxing has reached the point locally where we can now promote weekly," Davies said. "We are particularly pleased that fourth-rated heavyweight Jerry Quarry will headline our Nov. 9 card, meeting Steve Carter of Oakland in a main event designed to get the weekly shows off to a good start."

Davies started promoting boxing on a every other Friday basis in June at the Coliseum and has enjoyed considerable success in his venture. With several near sellouts and one turnaway crowd, the Coliseum fight venture has become the most successful small club operation on the West Coast.

Meanwhile, the card Friday at the Coliseum will feature unbeaten Renato Garcia of Chile and ChuChu Garcia, Mexico's number three welterweight, in a 10-round junior middleweight main event.

The Nov. 9 fight: Quarry has a 46-6-4 record with 27 ko's. Carter: 21-5-0 with 10 ko's.

The Oct. 26 fight: 10 rounds, middleweights — Renato Garcia: 18-0, 11 ko's, ChuChu Garcia (no relation): 34-14-5, 16 ko's.

10 rounds, lightweights—Tony Bellard vs. Felix Jasso.

4 rounds, lightweights—Manuel Castillo vs. Polo Lopez.

A mariachi group will enter the ring at 7 p.m. to provide music. Fights start at 8 p.m. Tickets for this fight are scaled $7.50 ringside down to $3 general.

Miguel Water Polo Split Two Games

By Rodger Price

Mount Miguel's varsity water polo team split two games last week. The team had a little trouble at first but pulled away from a persistent Helix team to win, 14-8. Steve Solomen led all scorers with 8 goals, followed by Rodger Price with 3. Mark Price added 2 and Chuck Codena came up with 1 goal.

The team took on a tough Monte Vista team on Thursday, losing 19-10. Miguel put in three fast goals right off to go ahead 3-0, but Monte Vista came back and won easily after the entire first string of Mt. Miguel's, besides the goalie, fouled out, most in the third quarter. Solomen and Gary Horgan put in 4 goals apiece with Mark Price adding 1.

Miguel plays El Cajon today, to start off the second round of competition. The game is at Henry Gunther Pool in El Cajon. Game time is 4:30 p.m., and is free to all.

Target is 6 For Toreros Saturday

USD shoots for a school record six straight football wins Saturday night when the Toreros travel northward to meet Humboldt State U.

Combining an offense that has produced 36.5 points and 417-1 yards a game with a defense that has surrendered 10.3 points and 2044.2 yards per contest, USD has put together five consecutive victories after a season opening loss. Its most recent effort was a 46-0 triumph over St. Mary's College.

Humboldt, a member of the Far Western Conference, has won one and tied one while losing four but the Lumberjacks stopped Sacramento State, 7-0, in their latest outing.

USD coach Andy Vinci enters Saturday's game with questionmarks hanging over his two biggest offensive weapons, tailback Rich Paulson and quarterback Bob Dulich. Paulson, with 11 touchdowns and a 7.0 rushing average, and Dulich, with 70 pass completions in 122 attempts and 1100 yards total defense, both suffered leg injuries against Saint Mary's and may not be able to start.

Following Humboldt State, USD returns to its own stadium for a Nov. 3 homecoming confrontation with Azusa Pacific.

Charger Owner Vows 'No More Bad Games'

"We can't get going. There are no excuses, no apologies. You saw it. We've got to keep swinging. I'm not down on this team. It's a tight group and it's going to stay tight. We realize we're in for criticism and abuse."

So said Charger coach Harlan Svare minutes after he walked off the San Diego field leaving the speakerboard proclaiming Falcons 41-Chargers 0.

Fans booed and hurled paper cups at him. The week before he had been splashed with beer from fans angered by defeat. Fans were in an ugly mood. They chanted "four more years" (Svare's five year contract has only three to go) and "we want Garrett" (Mike Garrett, last year's 1,000 yard running back has been benched for errors).

Fan-sponsored signs were as profuse as they are at a political convention. Those considered abusive by the management were immediately torn down by Stadium security. One clever sign lasted more than a quarter — probably because security couldn't decide whether it was objectionable. It read "Harlan Svare, we're still with you—Mom and Dad". A big red X had been drawn through Dad's name.

Charger owner Gene Klein, who took up residence in La Jolla over the week-end, attended the regular Monday meeting of Sportscasters/Sportswriters at the 7 Seas-Hyatt House Monday. Svare didn't attend.

Klein apologized for the "totally, utterly disgraceful, arocious" game the Chargers played Sunday. That cancelled out Svare's "no apologies" aftergame statement. However, he did back up Svare's "no excuses" posture.

"It is very important we win some games now," Klein told reporters. "We were awful, disgraceful and embarrassing. There is no excuse at all. To the fans, all I can do is offer an apology."

Klein said the team's ineptness was unexplainable. He said that he would do whatever had to be done to mount a winning team. He said he is not giving anyone a vote of confidence. "I wouldn't even give myself a vote" after a game that stunk like that, he said.

"I'd shoot myself," Klein said in answer to what he would do if another bad game turned up again this week at Cleveland.

The team apparently is also getting he message. Svare, he said, "is meeting with the team right now and is passing on whatever sentiments are necessary."

"I'm going to see that this doesn't happen again, I'm just not," Klein said. M.G.

Valley Mesa Girls Chalk Up 9-4 Record

The Valley Mesa GSA team came out on the short end of the score in a game played against the Pio Pico team last Thursday at Lemon Grove.

The Valley Mesa Girls came back on Saturday behind the pitching of Donna Leyva and fine defensive playing of Mariann Schilling and Cheryl Roberton to defeat the National Steelers of El Cajon by the score of 5 to 1.

The win Saturday brings the Valley Mesa record up to nine wins and four losses for the season to date.

Plan For An Emergency County Unit Advises

The San Diego County Office of Emergency Services urges all residents to maintain a five day supply of food on their shelves.

William B. Marty, director of the unified county unit, stressed that local food warehouses and retail stores could be closed during an emergency situation, making each household responsible for self sufficiency. Either canned or boxed dry foods in quantities ample to feed all members of the household should be stocked on pantry shelves.

He cited such catastrophies as earthquakes, major fires, floods, and man-made disasters as causing a possible pinch in food sources.

"There are no major food warehouses south of the Los Angeles area," Marty said, "and it could take up to five days to resupply the region after a disruption of transportation lines."

The food supply needn't be special foods or stored in a special way according to Marty. He said that simply by rotating the stock on kitchen shelves, its freshness could be assured. Because of the relatively short period of time in question, a nutritionally balanced diet was not essential, although helpful.

Even if water systems became polluted, he pointed out that every home has 30 to 50 gallons of emergency water in the hot water heater.

"Those desiring to maintain self-sufficiency should remember about any necessary medicinal supplies or special foods and milk for infants, the elderly, or the infirm," he concluded.

Memorial Planned For M.I.A. To Include All County Men

The former La Mesa Monument Park Beautification Committee met at La Mesa City Hall, to discuss plans for a memorial to the men missing in action in Southeast Asia. It was decided that the name of the group be changed to M.I.A. Monument Committee, however efforts to improve and beautify the park would continue unchanged.

Mr. Joe Piper of the San Diego Gas & Electric Company presented facts concerning an eternal flame and it was unanimously agreed that a fountain proposed by Mrs. Michael Shanley, whose son is an M.I.A. would be more impressive and more acceptable in view of a possible fuel shortage. The proposed site is an undeveloped area behind the monument on University and Spring Street in La Mesa.

Among those present were Paul McDonald, Commander of the American Legion District 22; Commander George Meeks of the La Mesa Post 282, Alma Berquist, 1st Vice President of the La Mesa Post 282 Auxiliary; Jerry Lauderdale, Jr., Vice Commander and H. B. Slagle, Quartermaster of the Spring Valley VFW 3045, and Mike Huse, representing the City of La Mesa.

It was agreed that the proposed fountain would serve as a tribute to all San Diego County M.I.A.'s and that every effort would be made to include all Veterans Organizations and Auxiliaries in the cooperative effort of its construction.

The group voted unanimously to retain Mrs. Ellis Evers as the Committee's Coordinating Chairman. Mrs. Berquist was named Secretary and accepted the responsibility of contacting all veterans groups and related organizations.

Mrs. Evers pointed out that according to the U.S. Defense Department, 1240 military personnel and a number of civilians are still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia. "The Communists have refused to comply with the peace agreement terms to determine the whereabouts and true status of these men. There is reasonable evidence that many are still alive. American men are not expendible and it is our aim to keep the world ever mindful of this fact," she said.

A meeting of the M.I.A. Monument Committee is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the American Legion Hall, University and Spring sts. in La Mesa at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in taking part in this project is welcome to attend.

Thermometer Test Set For Nov. 1

San Diego County fruit and vegetable growers may have their thermometers tested in preparation for the winter season, it was announced today by Walt Hattman, Fruit-Frost Meteorologist for San Diego County.

Thermometers should be left at the Fallbrook Citrus Association, 202 West College ave., Fallbrook, or at the Department of Agriculture-Weights and Measures office at 600 East Valley Parkway, Escondido before noon on Nov. 1. They will be picked up in the afternoon of that date, taken to Pomona for testing, and will be returned to the pick-up point after noon on Nov. 2 when they can be reclaimed by their owners.

Hattman said the thermometers should be tagged only with a Weather Service tag attached to the end opposite the bulb. Tags will be supplied when thermometers are delivered to either of the designated pick-up points.

"Fruit-frost forecasts for San Diego County will begin Nov. 15, and will be carried through March 15, 1974," Hattman said. The broadcasts will be of considerable value to growers in planning their operations.

Film Classic Here Saturday

The original, uncut, unexpurgated version of the 1925 silent film classic, "The Phantom of the Opera" starring Lon Chaney Sr., will be shown at the Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove on Saturday, at 8 p.m.

In 1925, Lon Chaney senior teamed up with Mary Philbin and Norman Kerry to produce what would go down in history, as the most talked about horror film Hollywood ever released. The plot has to do with very strange goings-on at the famed Paris Opera House. The Phantom kidnaps the prima donna (Mary Philbin) to the subterranean caverns of his under-Paris, sewer lair. The big scene is when the ill-fated soprano un-masks the phantom, and then, of course, Norman Kerry comes to save the synical singe. The classic is a spine-tingler with chandaliers crashing from start to finish.

At the time of this release, only 140 tickets remained. Those interested in attending his very special presentation of Lon Chaney Senior in the "Phantom of the Opera" are urged to call Southland Music at 463-0308 to reserve seats. Seating will not be guaranteed to those who have not made reservations.

Health Chief Advises Shots For Influenza

Californians with serious chronic illnesse, such as heart and lung diseases or diabetes, should receive influenza vaccine this fall, state Health Director J. M. Stubblebine, M.D., advised.

The elderly also should consider immunization against respiratory virus diseases, he said. Children and healthy adults should be immunized against influenza only if sufficient vaccine is available because the chronically ill and elderly are more at risk. Limited national production of vaccines may create temporary shortages in some localities.

"Those who wish to be immunized should be vaccinated this month, or no later than November, to be protected against the two types of influenza viruses we expect in California by December," Dr. Stubblebine said. The types are the English flu, which struck the state hard last year, and the Hong Kong "B" virus that first occurred last year.

The State Department of Health advises that a single dose of the new monovalent type B influenza should follow administration of the bivalent vaccine that helps to ward off the older A and B type viruses. Separation of the shots by two weeks is recommended to minimize the probability of adverse reactions. Also, spacing the vaccines two weeks apart may enhance the new type B antibody response, Dr. Stubblebine said.

The influenza season in California generally starts in December and peaks about February. The types of viruses expected to occur and the timing of outbreaks can be predicted based on World Health Organization reports and past experience in California. Since 1957, the Department of Health has monitored school and industrial absenteeism, reports of cases of respiratory illness seen in college infirmaries, and pneumonia and influenza deaths. Findings are used to alert local health authorities about the nature and scope of influenza activity in the state.

12-6 Important Win

Monarchs Continue To Roll Top Helix Highlanders

SPRING VALLEY — Monte Vista's defense gathered in a Helix fumble on the Monarch two yard line in the second half of last Friday night's game at Monte Vista and downed the visiting Highlanders, 12-6, in an important game for the Monte Vistant. The win, the fourth in five games for Monte Vista, enabled the 1973 Monarchs to equal the school record for football victories.

The Monarchs, now 2-1 in league play with their lone loss to undefeated El Capitan, travel to Granite Hills tomorrow night in hopes of keeping their playoff hopes alive. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

It was a strange night for the Monarchs. They collected 176 yards rushing and 160 yards passing for a total of 336 yards and 12 points. Several scoring drives were stopped by fumbles, the Monarchs losing the ball four times on fumbles.

Junior quarterback Steve Perdue, leading the Grossmont League in passing this season with 657 yards and nine touchdowns, put the Monarchs on the board first with a 12-yard run late in the first quarter. The attempt for the PAT failed and the Monarchs led, 6-0, a score that held until the third quarter.

In the third quarter Mitch Bonilla, Perdue's favorite target with 446 yards on 42 receptions, scored on an 18-yard pass from Perdue for a 12-0 lead. The pass attempt for a two-point PAT fell incomplete and the Monarchs settled for a 12-0 lead.

Helix' lone touchdown came with just 1:13 remaining in the game when Pat Chevalier scored from the one. The PAT kick failed for the 12-6 final.

County Lead Poison Tests Indicate Little Danger

The danger to children of lead poisoning from sources in their home environment is not great in San Diego County at this time, according to results of a sample lead survey released by the County of San Diego Department of Public Health.

"Of 86 blood specimens from San Diego area children analized by the State Department of Health laboratory, none had abnormally high levels," said Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health.

The sample survey was conducted in two phases, Dr. Askew said. In the first phase, over 500 homes throughout the county were tested for the presence of potentially dangerous lead levels in interior paint. Families were also asked if they used imported or handmade pottery as cooking utensils.

The survey, conducted during October and November, 1972, included homes in metropolitan San Diego, San Ysidro, National City, Otay, Oceanside, Escondido, Carlsbad and Pala. Numerous community agencies and organizations provided assistance, including Project STAR, Model Cities, San Ysidro Community Health Care Center, the Pala Indian Reservation and University Hospital.

"Only homes built before 1940 were surveyed," he commented, "as it is the older homes which are most likely to have been painted with lead-based paint. Of 574 homes tested, 375 were found to contain potentially dangerous lead levels in paint on interior walls and woodwork."

The second phase of the survey was carried out this spring, Dr. Askew added. Families living in homes where high lead levels had been found were asked to permit their small children to have a blood sample taken, to determine if the children had absorbed lead and if blood lead levels were dangerous. As a means of comparison, blood samples were also taken from children not living in homes with high lead levels.

A total of 86 blood samples were sent to the State Health Department for laboratory analysis: 69 of these were from children living in homes with significantly high lead levels; 17 were from children whose homes had lead levels not considered significant.

Four of the 69 children living in high lead-content homes were from families who used imported pottery as cookware. Glazes on handmade and imported pottery sometimes contain lead which, if not fired at high enough temperatures, may be leached out by acidic foods.

"Although results of the survey indicate no apparent lead problem at this time," Dr. Askew observed, "lead poisoning could occur if older houses are allowed to deteriorate, making peeling paint chips accessible to children. Eating a few paint chips a day over a period of several months can make a child dangerously ill," he said. "Lead absorption builds up cumulatively in the body and over time can cause anemia, mental disorders and in some cases, death."

Dr. Askew stressed, however, that it is the actual ingestion of paint chips that causes the poisoning The old lead-based paints are safe if homes are well-maintained and paint is not allowed to flake off walls and interior woodwork. Children in large eastern cities have been frequent victims of lead poisoning, he noted. However, certain sections of these cities are much older than any residential areas in San Diego County; homes here are newer, in better repair, and have probably been repainted less often.

Families of children who participated in the blood testing phase of the project will receive individual letters of appreciation, notifying them that their children's blood lead levels were within normal limits. Dr. Askew said no further action on the project is contemplated at this time.

1973 CHOICE — Debby Toolson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Toolson of La Mesa, was named the 1973 homecoming queen at Monte Vista High School during halftime ceremonies of last Friday night's game. Homecoming princesses were Norene Norris, Maria Brayshay, Kathy Gehl and Pat DeVore. In addition to naming the homecoming queen, fans were treated to a colorful fireworks display. Tax Bills Have New Look Says Collector

As James E. Jones, the County Tax Collector put it in his communique this week — first, the bad news.

The news is that the 1973-74 tax bills were mailed Monday. You should have yours by now.

The bills normally go out November 1, the day the bill becomes due. It remains due without penalty until December 10. This year, and from now on, Jones said, the bills should get to the property owner in mid-October.

There are 465,527 tax bills for $362 million this year. That's about 14,000 more bills and about $3 million more dollars.

The good news is the tax reduction. An increase of $1,750 in homeowners exemption and a generally lower tax rate should cut the average bill by about $100, Jones said.

Last year county taxpayers were among the lowest in delinquency in the state — 1.61%.

A warning. If your tax bill doesn't arrive by November 1, better call him at 236-3121, Jones said.

Taxable Sales Reach Highest Total Ever In California

An unprecedented taxable sales growth of 22.7 percent for the second quarter of 1973 was the largest year-to-year gain in more than 20 years, and the highest level ever recorded in California, according to a report released by John W. Lynch, Member of the State Board of Equalization.

The quarter's taxable sales of $15.8 billion surpassed the previous record set in the Christmas quarter of 1972 by $600 million.

The inclusion of gasoline effective July 1972 substantially enlarged the sales tax base. Spring quarter sales of 2.65 billion gallons of gasoline are estimated at $1 billion, or 6.3 percent of all taxable sales.

Largest Gain

Removing the increase attributable to gasoline leaves a growth rate of 15 percent. After allowing for price increases, the real growth rate in the physical volume of goods sold was 9.4 percent, the largest gain in five quarters, according to the report "Taxable Sales in California" prepared by the Board's research staff.

Among durables, lumber and building material dealers showed the most impressive gain with a 37.2 percent growth. New car dealers achieved an 18.3 percent gain in taxable sales.

The per capita taxable sales transactions average $762, the highest amount ever recorded. At retail stores, taxable sales per person amounted to $518.

State and local sales tax collections for the second quarter totaled $813.7 million —$605.1 million in state sales tax collections, and $208.6 million in local sales tax collections. This compares with a total of $660.8 million for the second quarter of 1972.

Estimates of nontaxable transactions for the second quarter of 1973: food for home consumption, $2.6 billion; prescription medicines, $170 million.

Local HRD Looking For Men and Women To Work

Good jobs are going begging because qualified workers are not aware of them, the manager of the El Cajon Human Resources Development Center said today.

Gerald Avery, who heads the HRD office at 133 East Park ave., said an average of 600 job openings are listed daily in the San Diego Job Bank.

"Many of these jobs are in our community or within easy driving distance," Avery said. "They range from unskilled to professional occupations but the major demand is for full qualified workers."

Job opportunities are posted in the Job Information Center in the lobby of El Cajon HRD. "We post every job opening in the Job Bank Book. There are five jobs to the page, compiled and printed by a computer according to location and occupation," he said.

Avery explained the paradox between the 25,700 unemployed persons in the labor market area in September and the large number of vacant jobs this way:

"Many of the unemployed are merely between jobs and will be out of work only briefly. Others are without job training or experience. Many of these are youths.

"We do have trainee jobs, jobs for youths and the unskilled but these openings are filled quite quickly," he said.

Avery stressed that HRD charges no fee to applicants or employers. He listed the following jobs as a sample of the openings his office is striving to fill:

Clerks, typists, secretaries, starting a $550. Architectural project engineer, $18,400. Live-in housekeeper, $300 monthly plus board and room. Auto mechanics, up to $1,000 per month based on a 50-60 percent commission. Full-charge bookkeeper at $800.

"There are many additional jobs for which we have more openings than we have applicants," Avery said.

The average combined tax rate in San Diego County in 1972-73 was $10.59, but only $2.71 was levied to run County government.

Registration Fees Reduced Next Year

Registration fees on more than two million California vehicles will be reduced next year under new legislation signed into law this week by Governor Ronald Reagan (AB 505). The same law requires about 300,000 owners of pickups and vans weighing less than 4,001 pounds to pay weight fees. And weight fees for most larger trucks and trailers will increase.

According to Motor Vehicles Director Robert C. Cozens, the legislation is designed to eliminate a decades-old grey area between fees paid by owners of passenger cars and commercially designed vehicles.

"About one-and-a-half million station wagon owners in California will be paying one dollar less," Cozens said, explaining that owners of station wagons historically have been charged an extra dollar registration fees on the basis that the station wagon was considered semi-commercial.

Under the new fee alignment, all commercially designed vehicles under the 4,001 pound limit will pay the basic $15.

Receiving a $2 registration fee reduction are owners of commercially designed vehicles which previously fell into the 3,000 to 4,000 pound category, all of which were charged $17.

In the past, owners of pickups and vans could acquire the cheaper rates issued to passenger vehicles simply by signing a statement that the vehicles would be used for passenger transport only. Beginning with the 1974 registration, all small trucks and vans will be classified as commercially designed vehicles and charged an addi- $15 a year.

Two-axle commercially designed vehicles weighing between 4,001 and 5,000 pounds will be subject to the same $32 fee as before, but heavier vehicles will be assessed extra fees.

Cozens pointed out that the new law does not change the status of some pickups and vans which are equipped and registered as housecars.

"But those are about the only exceptions. In the future, commercially designed vehicles as defined by the Vehicle Code will be required to pay the appropriate weight fees."

Military Academy Applications Ready

WASHINGTON: Young men who wish to apply for appointment to the nation's military academies have until October 31 to contact Congressman Clair W. Burgener. Appointments to Annapolis, West Point, Air Force and Merchant Marine academies will be available from Burgener for the term beginning next summer.

Burgener said, "We use a competitive system for the nominations to all four academies: Army, Navy, Air Force and Merchant Marine. Any young man in the district I represent will have an equal chance to obtain admission."

Burgener said he has set a deadline for the initial application of October 31. "All that is required is a letter from the young man involved indicating his interest in one or more of the academies and requesting consideration," Burgener said.

After receipt of the initial letter, Burgener will send the applicant a form on which to supply the needed information and instructions on how best to proceed toward eventual nomination.

'Oldest' Claim Disputed

At least one local businessman decided Molly's Texaco Station was not the oldest business in Lemon Grove. E. A. "Molly" Mouillesseaux, who sold the station, according to the story in this newspaper last week, said it was the oldest.

Now comes Jerry Walter, the owner and operator of a jewelry store at 7773 Broadway, who lays claim to the title.

"I will have been here 25 years next April," he said. Molly claimed 22 years of local operation. "The former location of the Post Office was next to my store. It opened a month after I came," Walter said. The Post Office has moved twice since.

Walters also claim some sort of fame in the family production line. Since living here his family has grown to six girls and two boys.

Nation Observes Veterans Day

Veterans Day this year will honor more than 29 million Americans, the most in the Nation's history. The veteran population of southern California has risen to a record 1,965,000.

More than half of the 43.5 million who served from the American Revolution through Vietnam are alive today.

The oldest in this group are the less than 2,000 veterans of the Spanish-American War with an average age of 93. Veterans of World War II represent the largest group, about 14 million. The current Vietnam Era has produced 6.6 million veterans.

Once known as Armistice Day, the event commemorated the end of World War I on November 11, 1918. Following World War II, sentiment grew for the day to be a tribute to veterans of all wars. A congressional resolution by Representative Edwin K. Rees, of Kansas, was passed and signed into law in 1954.

That same year, President Eisenhower created the Veterans Day National Committee which coordinates the national ceremony and the observance within each state. "Peace with Honor" was chosen by the committee as the official Veterans Day theme and has been in use continuously since 1954.

National observance of Veterans Day was changed by Congress in 1968 to the fourth Monday in October. Many states, however, by legislation or proclamation, hold to the traditional Nov. 11 date.

JUST LOOKING FOR A HOME — Some days newspaper editors are faced with the strangest things like finding this homeless trio perched on his desk. You can aid your local animal shelter by dropping by and taking home one of these youngsters. Pet owners are also reminded that the shelters are sponsoring a drive to have your pet fixed so there will be less homeless ones like these. Check with your local shelter for days and cost.

Griffs Win Finally!

Grossmont College scored 20 points in the second half Saturday and went on to drop Mission Conference rival Chaffey, 26-14. It was the Griffins' first win in a month.

The Griffins, who are now 3-2-1 for the season, had not won since they opened the 1973 campaign with back-to-back victories over Long Beach City, 8-7, and San Bernardino Valley, 30-27.

Sophomore running back Frank Woolrich established a Grossmont College rushing record when he picked up 108 yards against a keying Panther defense. The 5-foot-11, 195-pounder has now rushed for 806 yards and scored eight touchdowns on 158 carries. He erased the old record of 773 yards set by Bart Williamson in 1968.

Freshman quarterback Joe Roth hit 11 of 19 passes for 142 yards and three touchdowns. Seven of those aerials went to Dave Oliver for 75 yards and three passes landed in Bill Helms' arms, for 63 yards. Steve Haynes also caught a pass for four yards. All three receivers scored touchdowns.

Oliver now has caught 41 passes for 396 yards and three touchdowns. He's only nine receptions short of the school record.

Chaffey scored first in the game on a 98-yard 22-play drive which consumed almost 11 minutes of the first quarter. The Griffins came back with six points but trailed by a 7-6 count at intermission.

Roth passed 46 yards to Helms for the go-ahead score and then hit Oliver with a five-yard touchdown toss, all in the third period. That made it 20-7 and the rest was downhill from there.

The Griffins will host Citrus College Saturday night at 7:30 in Aztec Bowl. Citrus, 2-2 in conference play, lost to first place San Diego City, 10-9.

Tax Deadline Wednesday

All California employers were reminded today by Hagen Christensen, Tax Administrator, for the State Department of Human Resources Development in San Diego, that Wednesday, Oct. 31, is the deadline date for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contribution returns and Report of Personal Income Tax Withheld for the third quarter of 1973. Penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline.

Unbeaten Harriers End Perfect Season

Grossmont College completthe dual meet segment of its schedule last week by whipping Southwestern, 15-48 and San Diego City, 15-47 to finish its fifth straight Mission Conference season unbeaten. The Griffins have won 36 conference meets without a loss and 37 straight overall.

Grossmont won't be able to claim the conference crown until the conference race in two weeks. One-third of the conference title goes to Grossmont for winning the dual meet side of things. The Griffins should be able to place high enough to win the conference championship for a fifth straight time.

Grossmont is slated to run in the Mt. San Antonio College invitational Friday, however, coach Bob Larsen says it's a 50-50 chance that the Griffins won't attend.

Still ahead for the Griffins are the conference finals, the Southern California finals and the state championship meet.

"If we do run at Mt. SAC that'll give us four tough meets in a row," Larsen said. "I don't know if we'll have that much to gain by running this week. We don't have a whole lot of depth and a couple of people aren't feeling up to par."
